

SAT scores are a critical component of college readiness. Students who prepare for this specialized exam, typically outperform those who do not. While SAT Prep Classes help, they are not an option for everyone. The following is a list of free, online SAT preparation resources:

1. www.Khanacademy.org – Khan Academy provides a complete practice exam, as well as tutorials for every question. Additionally, The College Board just announced that they're redesigning the SAT for 2016, and Khan Academy is partnering with them to make free, world-class prep materials!
2. www.number2.com - Number2.com is a free web program run by Harvard graduate students which offers students access to comprehensive free online test preparation courses for the SAT, ACT, and GRE.
3. www.collegeboard.org – The College Board mission-driven not-for-profit organization that connects students to college success and opportunity. They are the ones who write the SAT and as such provide free practice exams.
4. www.amazon.com – sells College Board SAT prep. books used for under $10.00
5. The APP store – SAT question of the Day
6. The APP store – Ultimate SAT Prep

There are many resources available. One way to be sure that they are legitimate is to see the College Board endorsement.
