

Old Colony RVTHS would like to introduce you to YourPlanForTheFuture.org, a robust online solution for career and college planning that will support you and your student for life after high school.

As part of Governor Patrick's Readiness Project, the Department of Higher Education's Vision Project, and the Commonwealth's continued mission to ensure equitable access to its world-class colleges and universities, YourPlanForTheFuture.org was launched in 2010.

YourPlanForTheFuture.org connects parents, guidance counselors, and student advocates, to students throughout the development of their portfolio and resume; as they explore careers, manage their course plans and prepare for all the facets of postsecondary success. When students begin to navigate the college application and financial aid processes, YourPlanForTheFuture.org ensures they stay on track with reminders on key milestones and deadlines.

While utilizing YourPlanForTheFuture.org, parents have a unique opportunity to check-in on their student's progress anywhere there's an Internet connection. Collaborate with your student's progress as they progress from freshman to senior year and leverage tools like YourPlanForTheFuture's college cost comparison, estimated family contribution calculator, and understanding the FAFSA.

We're excited to extend this solution with our students and families to assist with career and college planning. It is our goal to prepare every student with an opportunity for successful management of their education and launch of their career.

Sincerely,
