DEDICATION

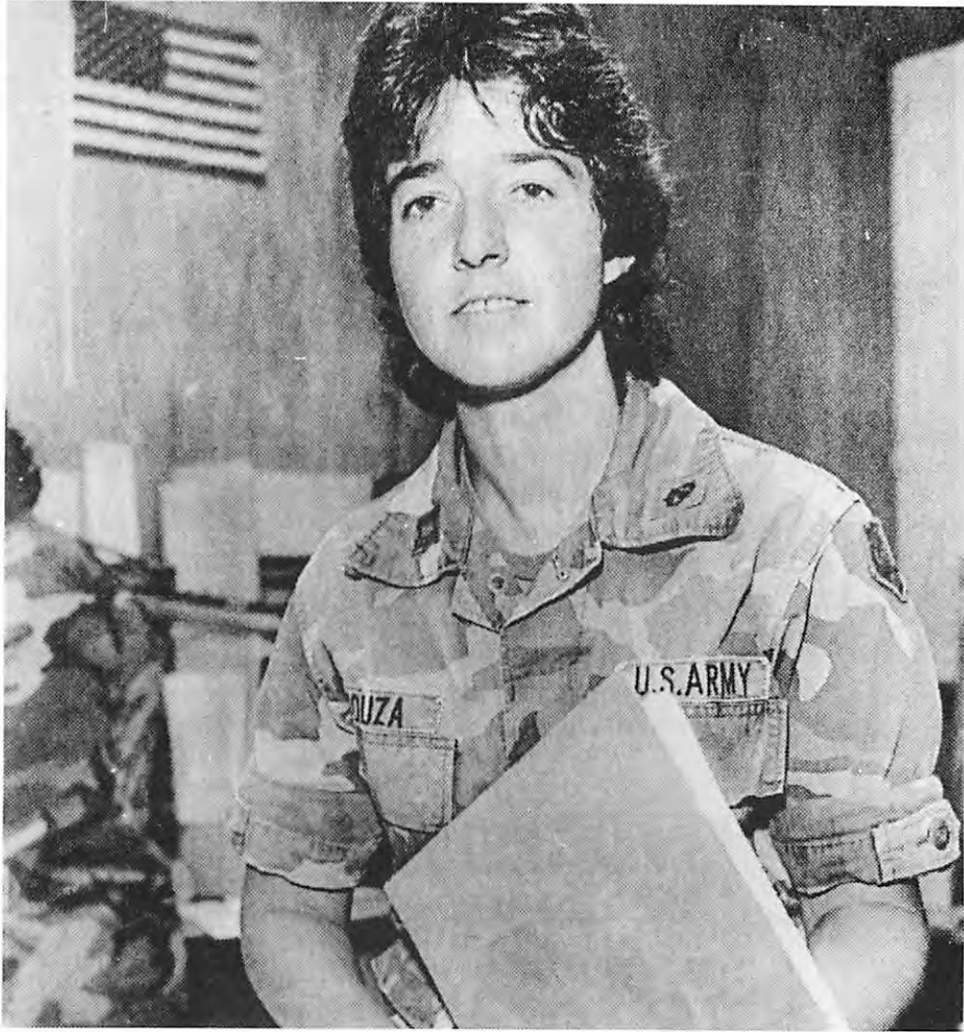

MR. JOHN T. OLIVEIRA

The Class of 1991 would like to dedicate our yearbook to the man who wrote the book on dedication, Mr. John T. Oliveira.

Over the past 20 years Mr. Oliveira has given his all for the success and well-being of Old Colony. Since the time he served on the planning board for the school, right through construction, and from the first graduating class to our class, he has breathed life into all those who have come in contact with Old Colony, students and staff alike.

Mr. Oliveira's dream of starting Old Colony came true and he has since inspired all of us to reach up for our dreams as well. As time passes, we realize that life goes on and we would like to wish you, Mr. Oliveira, the best for the future and a happy and warm retirement. Thank you again for your dedication.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

MS. NANCY SOUZA

"Ms. Souza," "Souza," "Coach," "Souza-face," or "Capt. Nancy Souza," — any one of these names represents a very dedicated, hard-working, responsible, and friendly woman. Not only is Ms. Souza a dedicated physical education teacher and coach at Old Colony but when America called her to active duty, she was a dedicated captain in the Army National Guard, serving in the Persian Gulf from September, 1990 to May, 1991. We'll always remember her hallway antics, coaching us to volleyball victories, her devotion to the S.A.D.D. Chapter at school, and how she helped plan the Health Awareness Day events.

Ms. Souza — Thank you for helping to defend democracy! Thank you for helping us to develop mentally and physically!

The U.S. Army's heaviest ground firepower reached Saudi soil in August 1990 for deployment behind Arab forces manning the front line in the standoff with Iraq.

"The liberation of Kuwait has begun."

President Bush — January 17, 1991 — 7:07 P.M. Est.

The man in the lead, General Powell (Commander, Joint-Chief-of-Staff), shined as equally with his Vietnam experience and theory to move quickly and move massively. A fireworks display of anti-aircraft enforcing the U.N. resolutions early in the morning of January 17, 1991. The War in the Gulf shined many heroes, one of which was the man in charge, General Schwarzkopf (General Commander — United States Armed Forces — Saudi Arabia).

The portrait of Saddam Hussein shows a man with a strange duality: tough, yet fearful; inspiring fear in his own people, yet also basking in a kind of populist veneration from many of the region's Arabs. The portrait is one of a poor orphan who rose to power through opportunism and brutality, whose anti-Western views were shaped in childhood, and who now — commanding the world's fourth-largest army — is trying to deliver on his nationalist dreams.

In March 1991, the Persian Gulf War was ended with a victory for the Allied forces. The troops were welcomed home by many with both large celebrity groups and small community events and parades.

The Soviet Army imposed a curfew and declared a general in command of the Lithuanian capital, Vilnius, on January 13, 1991, after troops seized a television tower in an assault that killed 13 and injured about 140 people. This was the hardest measure taken by Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev against the Baltic republic since it declared independence on March 11, 1990. President Bush said the crackdown "threatens to set back or perhaps even reverse" the new U.S.-Soviet relationship.

Massive crowds turned out for African National Congress leader Nelson Mandela at every stop on his six-week tour of three continents. Mandela visited 14 nations in Europe, North America and Africa, achieving his goals: urging foreign governments to maintain sanctions against South Africa, raising funds for the ANC and explaining the goals of his movement.

President Bush and Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev shook hands and signed a sheaf of agreements including a conditional trade accord and a preliminary deal to cut long-range nuclear arms.

On April 22, an estimated 200 million people all over the planet celebrated the 20th anniversary of Earth Day as activists pleaded for the rise of a new "Conservation Generation" to care for the fragile environment. Earth Day was celebrated in more than 3,600 U.S. communities and in 140 other nations.

The nation united at the stroke of midnight when a giant German flag was raised in front of the battle-scarred Reichstag building in Berlin. The wall separating East and West Germany was destroyed.

A legion of clip-board-toting counters sought out shelters, subways, and steam grates in March of 1990 in the broadcast attempt to ever find out the extent of homelessness since it became a national disgrace in the 1980's. The homeless — now estimated to number 250,000 to 3 million — were asked their name, age, sex, race and marital status. A homeless man said, "What are they going to do with the information anyway? To tell us there ain't no homeless problem? I'm a living example that there is a problem. The homeless people need jobs, not surveys."

The U.S. Senate rejected a constitutional amendment against flag burning on June 26, 1990 with critics arguing that it was already dead and being debated largely as ammunition for use against them at election time. But the House rejected it with Democratic leaders saying that it amounted to placing limits on freedom of speech.

The Southern United States spent much of the spring wringing itself out after weeks of flooding turned entire towns into muddy lakes where buildings poked up like knotty tree stumps. The toll of shattered lives was tremendous.

Governor William Weld was elected governor of Massachusetts in November 1990. In 1981, Weld was named U.S. Attorney for Massachusetts by President Reagan. Reagan brought Weld to Massachusetts in 1986, appointing him Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Criminal Division. He resigned in 1988 and joined a Boston law firm until his campaign for governor.

David H. Souter, a mild-mannered, well-read and previously little-known judge from New Hampshire, became history's 105th Supreme Court justice in October (1990) after pledging to "do equal right to the poor and to the rich."

Defeating the Milwaukee Brewers on July 31, 1990, Texas Rangers pitcher Nolan Ryan won his 300th game. "I feel more relieved than anything else after all the buildup," Ryan said after joining the 300 club. Also in May of 1991, Ryan pitched the 7th no-hitter of his career.

The Giants won Super Bowl XXV 20-19, in a game that kept fans in the seats and glued to the TV screen until the final second.

James "Buster" Douglas wore a world heavyweight championship belt after his stunning knockout of Mike Tyson in Tokyo earlier this year. At 1:23 of the 10th round, Douglas knocked Tyson out with a five-punch combination. "He pulled the greatest upset in history," said Douglas' father. "Just call it a victory for the small man," Tyson said.

The Boston Bruins gained national focus as they defeated the Canadians and played a hard series against the Penguins. The Bruins won two games of the 6 game series against the Penguins, as the Penguins moved on to the Stanley Cup Finals.

The Cincinnati Reds, given no chance to beat the Oakland Athletics, needed only four quick games to win the World Series in one of the biggest upsets in baseball history. The Reds completed their improbable sweep in October 1990 in spite of losing two star players, Eric Davis and Billy Hatcher, to injuries. The Athletics' third straight trip to the World Series ended with yet another disappointment.

Dances With Wolves was the winner for best picture of the year. Kevin Costner received the best actor award for his work on Dances With Wolves, a motion picture about a cavalry man who befriended the Sioux Indians. Costner wrote, directed, and starred in the movie.

Ghost, was the winner for the People Choice Award. The movie starred Patrick Swayze, Demi Moore, and Whoopi Goldberg. The theme song for the movie "Unchained Melody" by the Righteous Brothers, was brought back into popular demand.

The title of best picture nominee, Pretty Woman, best fits it's leading lady, Julia Roberts. Roberts' life has blossomed into a career from Mystic Pizza, Satisfaction, Flatliners, Steel Magnolias, and Sleeping With The Enemy.

Probably the most controversial movie director/producer is Spike Lee. Lee caught a lot of controversy over the motion picture Do The Right Thing, which discusses racial conflicts. Lee's other prizes were 'Mo Better Blues, She's Gotta Have It, and School Daze.

Television's most popular new show in 1990 is without a doubt, In Living Color. The show's creator and producer, Keenan Ivory Wayans, carefully selected a cast to produce short skits such as "Homey the Clown," "Fire Marshall Bill," and "Verricosa — Female Body Builder."

The war in the Gulf brought a time of real care, Voices That Care. Voices That Care wrote a song and dedicated it to the soldiers in the Gulf just days before the war ended.

Madonna kicked off her 1990 world tour, "Blond Ambition," with a seven-concert tour of Japan beginning in April, then came back to perform in the U.S. and on to more shows in Europe. In each of her two-hour performances, the singer ran through a series of accent and costume changes, reinventing herself with each change. "Express Yourself" is just what Madonna does.

It was crude, even lewd. But this time fans were spared seeing where she's tattooed. Still, many people said that Roseanne Barr was a disgrace for her shrill rendition of the national anthem at a National League baseball double header and a crude on-field gesture afterward.

At the Super Bowl a genuine talent was the special guest to sing the national anthem. Whitney Houston was on hand to sing the anthem which brought her more fame and sales. The song was released as a single and it climbed the charts along with her many other hits.

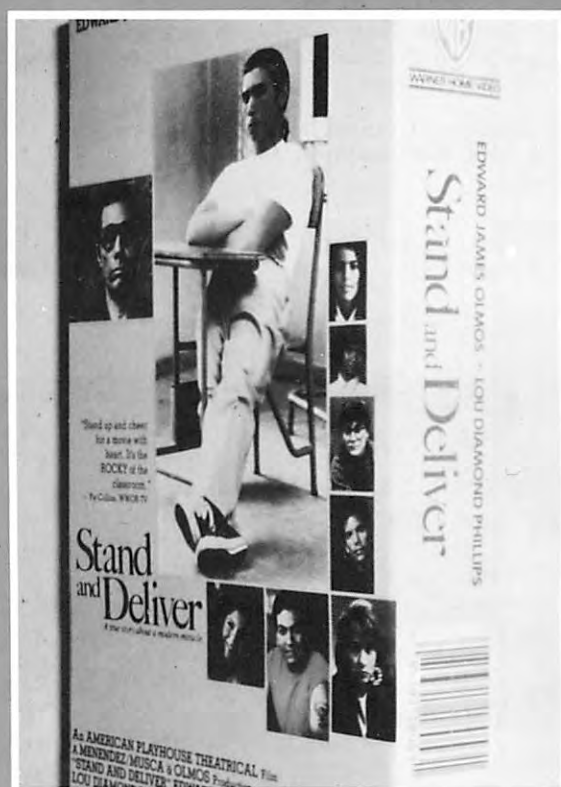

Rap artists Bel Biv DeVoe (BBD) gained national attention as they split from New Edition and began making moves up the pop and soul charts. "Poison," "Do Me!", and "Thought It Was Me," all made it to the top 10 on both charts.

Popular dance group C + C Music Factory has hit strong with "Make You Sweat" and "Here We Go" which both made the top 5 on the charts.

FACULTY

To The Class of 1991

You entered Old Colony to gain a vocational technical education, which by definition is a way of life, the test of which is the record of a lifetime. In this process of preparation for adult living, your graduation marked the point necessary for you to take a fond, final farewell of some members of your class, some members of the faculty, or of some of the places where you have enjoyed spending spare moments of your time during the busy past few years.

But don't say goodbye to Old Colony.

We don't have to tell you what tomorrow holds for you. You know that life has responsibilities, as well as rewards, failures as well as successes, tragedies as well as joys . . . but you see the world more simply and with greater clarity than my generation. You're more concerned with how things are, less with how they came about and what the consequences and dangers may turn out to be. We have faith in your ability to cope with life's problems, and you will.

Because Old Colony is deeply appreciative of the earnest efforts and constructive influence of the Senior Class, I wish to express on behalf of the student body and faculty our best wishes for the Class of 1991.

IN MEMORIAM

PAUL BESSEY

It hurts so bad inside,
Someone we cared about died.
The sadness we feel right now,
We always will recall.
You were someone special,
Who died beloved by all.
We don't have to let go of the people we love,
When it's their time to depart.
We just somehow keep their memory,
Deep down inside our heart.
It seems we picture your gentle face,
We know no one could ever take your place.
It's at this time your life was just beginning,
But somehow came to an end.
You were someone special,
Most of all our friend.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we'll miss you more.
You are not forgotten nor will you ever be,
As long as we have memory we will remember thee.

Tracy Weckesser

IN MEMORIAM

MICHAEL POULIN

How could this happen to us again,
Somehow we lost another good friend.
The tears in our eyes can be brushed away,
But the pain in our hearts will always stay.
You came so far and you fought so hard,
We knew you were always there.
And now as we close our eyes,
You're in our evening prayers.
I guess it's true only the good die young,
That must be why your life was somehow left undone.
I hear a song that brings thoughts of you to mind,
I ask myself how could He take someone so awfully kind.
You have brought good times to many of us,
You were someone we knew we could trust.
Well now it's our turn to say good-bye,
While your resting spirit rises to the sky.
